C. Joining service for obtaining information and giving instructions via facsimile and on electronic banking channels

We hereby request the Bank to join the service of receiving information and giving instructions through the electronic banking systems in accordance with the electronic channels and at the levels of service marked by us in this Request below, subject to the terms customary at the Bank as set forth in this Request, and to the provisions of the General Terms and Conditions for Managing an Account Agreement, including in accordance and subject to the provisions of chapter E in section A of the General Terms and Conditions for Managing an Account Agreement, as revised from time to time by the Bank, which shall apply to all our operations hereunder, and shall bind us in all respects, and they shall be read all together, as a single unit, consecutively and successively, with all the terms complementing and supplementing each other.

Please select the communication channel for receiving the services from the Bank and also the level of the service in which you are interested (it is clarified that each level of service includes all those which precede it):

In each channel you must mark your selection even if you are not interested in it. It is not possible to leave a channel without a selection.

1 - Information only: transfer of any information from the Bank to customers and to authorized signatories on the customers' accounts, including in connection with movements and balances in each of the customers' accounts (authorization level 1).

2 - Executing operations between the Customers' accounts only: authorization to execute transactions and operations in the customers' accounts at the Bank without transfers to a third party (authorization level 2).

4 - Executing operations in customers' accounts, including operations in favor of a third party: transactions to the credit of accounts which are not included in one of the above levels of service, including transfers to accounts of third parties. It is clarified that communication by means of telephonic channels is at a level of authorization for executing operations in favor of a third party (authorization level 4).

Not interested in receiving electronic banking services

For the customer's attention: Marking this section will prevent you from receiving services via communication channels, and receipt of information (excluding receipt of information via telephone human response and viewing information on the website by means of a one-time password). In order to give instructions and/or perform operations in the account, you will be required to come to the branch.

A. In addition to the provisions stipulated in the General Terms and Conditions for Managing an Account Agreement, the following provisions will also apply to receipt of instructions by means of the electronic banking system:

- (1) The Bank may, but is not obliged, to consent to each of the customer's requests to perform actions by means of the above electronic banking system: The Bank may consent to only some of the requests, both regarding types of communication channels by which the customers may perform instructions and regarding the types of instructions which the customers will have the right to give, at the Bank's reasonable¹ discretion. Without derogating from the generality of the foregoing, the Bank may set limits for receipt of instructions to perform actions in the various communication channels set forth above at its discretion, according to circumstances of the case, and/or to cancel its consent for the customer to perform actions by means of the electronic banking systems, at the Bank's reasonable discretion.
- (2) Without derogating from the generality of the foregoing, and from the provisions stipulated in the General Terms and Conditions for Managing an Account Agreement, the Bank may revise the electronic banking systems from time to time, add or detract or alter the communications channels and/or the systems, the technologies, the methods and ways to make contact with the Bank and/or with the Bank's systems and/or receive or give information, and/or perform actions in the electronic banking systems, at its sole discretion. Nothing in the customer's signature on this Request shall obligate the Bank to put at its customers' disposal any of the electronic banking systems. Moreover, the Bank shall determine from time to time, at its exclusive discretion, which actions can be performed by means of which service channel and subject to which terms, including minimum and maximum amounts, and any other condition, as well as the means of identification and verification required for each of the electronic banking systems and the operations requested by means thereof.
- (3) Any instruction received by means of the electronic banking systems shall be performed by the Bank in accordance with the rules and terms customary at the Bank at that time, concerning instructions of that kind, and shall be subject to any law applicable to the operation at the relevant time.
- (4) Without derogating from the provisions of the General Terms and Conditions for Managing an Account Agreement, the Bank may, at its discretion, not perform an instruction received via any of the communication channels, or may perform it partially or approximately, and regarding payment instructions - not perform it, on reasonable grounds, including if a doubt arises regarding the identity of the giver of the instruction or the content thereof, if given other than in accordance with the Bank's procedures or instructions, if there is a concern for abuse, or if given without using a verification element as customary at the Bank, and as allocated to the account owner by the Bank, and for any other reason under the law or as set forth in the General Terms and Conditions for Managing an Account Agreement.
- (5) Suspension of Means of Payment
The customers' consent to join any of the communication channels at any level of service, including Service Level 1 - receipt of information only, will enable them to transfer to the Bank by means of the electronic banking system, as the Bank may allow from time to time, a request to suspend any of their means of payment.
- (6) Special Provisions Concerning Landline and Cellular Telephony Channels:
 - (a) The customer's consent to receive services via line and cellular telephony channels constitutes consent at Service Level 4, and includes receipt of information and performance of actions in the customers' accounts, including actions in favor of a third party. Nothing in the aforesaid will obligate the Bank to perform the said instruction if it contravenes the provisions of this Request and of the General Terms and Conditions for Managing an Account Agreement.
 - (b) The customers are entitled to give instructions via landline and cellular telephony channels only to the bank branch where their account is managed and/or to the Bank's telephone service center, and subject to making use only of the current fax/telephone number of the Bank's service center or of that branch, as published on the Bank's website.

- (c) The customers will be responsible for any instruction given to the Bank by them and/or by an authorized person on their behalf, and they are obligated to ensure that the instruction has been received by the authorized banker at the Bank.

(7) Giving Instructions in a Joint Bank Account and a Corporate Account:

- (a) In a joint account, that is not a corporate account, where the partners in the account have not notified the Bank that each of them is authorized to sign separately, and therefore the signatures of all the partners in the account together are mandatory, the customer shall not be entitled to perform actions via the Internet channels, and the giving of instructions to the Bank via landline and cellular telephony channels by only one of the partners in the account shall obligate receipt of approval from all other partners in the account.

- (b) Signature of the body corporate (by means of its authorized signatories) or an owner of a joint account to this Request, means an authorization on the part of each of the owners of the joint account and/or of each of the partners and/or of each of the authorized persons to sign in the name of the body corporate and to bind it, to give telephone instructions and himself to give instructions by means of electronic banking, and a waiver of the necessity for signature by several appointed persons and/or the stamp of the body corporate in the signing of an undertaking on behalf of the body corporate, and the signature of the body corporate to the provisions of this Request confirms that all the necessary resolutions were passed by the body corporate in order to give validity to the provisions of this Request.

- (c) Without derogating from any other provision, each of the customers acting in a joint account or corporate account hereby give their consent that each of the owners of the joint account and/or each of the partners and/or each of those authorized to sign and make undertakings in the corporation's name and/or each of those authorized to act in the account on their behalf, separately, shall have the right to forward to the Bank at any time a request to suspend any of the means of payment issued in the account, even if, regarding any other instruction in the account, the consent of all of the account owners is required to give such instruction.

- (8) The customers are entitled to stop receiving all or part of the electronic banking services at any time, by a written notice to the Bank.

Without derogating from the provisions of the General Terms and Conditions for Managing an Account Agreement, the customers' attention is drawn to the following:

In the nature of things, any instruction received via the electronic banking system carries with it the risk of error and/or a delay in execution of the instruction and/or abuse, including forgery, fraud, impersonation, unauthorized use of a code and so forth by entities which are not authorized (hereinafter: "the Entities"). Subject to the Bank's liability according to law, the signing of this Request by the account owner or his/her consent thereto means that the account owner is consciously prepared to assume these risks, and to bear responsibility for them and for the consequences thereof.

In addition, for purposes of receiving information and performing operations on the communication channels, the account owner will receive an exclusive password from the Bank and a personal code which allow for entry and access to the Internet network and identification by means of interactive voice-answering and receiving the services via them. The user code and the password must not be disclosed to any other person, and same should not be kept in a place accessible to others, and they should not be passed on to any other entity, including a representative of the Bank, because this is likely to enable those entities to obtain information and to perform operations by means thereof.

The customers are obligated to safeguard the vital component, as defined in General Terms and Conditions for Managing an Account Agreement, to notify the Bank immediately if there is concern for loss or theft of the vital component or of abuse of the means of payment, and they shall take all precautions to prevent any abuse of the means of payment, including suspending the use thereof and/or replacing the password for the electronic banking systems.

Joining these services via electronic banking channels necessitates the viewing of an online document which can be printed. It is necessary to read the conditions prior to confirming it.

The account owner release/s the Bank from all liability and responsibility in respect of damage, loss, expense or payment likely to be incurred by him/them, directly or indirectly, as a result of the execution (including partial or approximate execution) of any instruction, or as a result of performance or non-performance of a payment instruction given by them and/ and/or by an authorized person on their behalf, provided that the Bank will not be released if the damage, loss or expense was caused as a result of the Bank's negligence.

By signing this Request, or confirmation by any other method which the Bank shall allow its customers from time to time, the customers acknowledge that they have been given the necessary possibility of reviewing the provisions of this Request, and Chapter E of Part A of the General Terms and Conditions for Managing an Account Agreement, and that they give their explicit consent to join the Service of Receiving Information and Giving Instructions via Electronic Banking Channels as set forth above in this Request::

DEED OF SET-OFF AND LIEN

- Whereas the undersigned (hereinafter referred to as “the customer”) has requested or is requesting the Bank to obtain, from time to time, alone or together with others, various services (hereinafter referred to as “the banking services”) from Bank of Jerusalem Ltd (hereinafter referred to as “the Bank”);
- and whereas the customer has guaranteed and/or might from time to time guarantee the debts and liabilities of others to the Bank (hereinafter referred to as “the guarantees”);
- and whereas for such purpose the customer has signed or is requesting to sign various documents, including an account opening request, account opening agreement and other documents binding the customer vis-à-vis the Bank (hereinafter jointly referred to as “the agreements”);
- and whereas in consequence of the provision of the banking services and/or the guarantees and/or for any other reason, the debt amounts, as defined below in this agreement, or any of them, are and/or might become due to the Bank;
- and whereas the customer has made and/or deposited and/or shall make and/or deposit financial deposits and/or other assets in his accounts, including in account no. _____ in the name of _____ that is managed at the Bank (hereinafter referred to as “the account”), inter alia as collateral for the banking services and the guarantees, and this account shall be deemed part of the customer’s assets and of the monies due to the customer – as defined below;
- and whereas it has been agreed between the customer and the Bank that to secure the debt amounts as defined below the Bank shall have the rights detailed below, in addition to all the other rights vested in the Bank;

Accordingly, the customer hereby irrevocably warrants and confirms as follows:

1. General and definitions

This deed shall constitute an integral part of the agreements, and the provisions of the agreements shall apply hereto. All the expressions not defined herein shall be governed by the definitions in the account opening agreement, unless the context otherwise admits. In the event of any irreconcilable discrepancy between the provisions of this deed and the provisions of the agreements, the provisions upholding the Bank’s rights shall prevail, and where all the provisions uphold the Bank’s rights, the provisions of this deed shall prevail.

2. Definitions:

- 2.1 “the monies due to the customer” – all the monies, in Israeli currency or in foreign currency, now or in future due to the customer, subject to any law, from the Bank in the account and in any other deposit and/or account of the customer at the Bank and/or in any way and on any cause;
- 2.2 “the customer’s assets” – the assets and monies now or in future due to the customer, subject to any law, including all the bills, checks, securities, financial assets, bills of lading, negotiable documents, other documents, gold coins, insurance policies, assignments of right, chattels and other assets of whatsoever type of the customer (whether given to the Bank by the customer or by a third party for the customer, and whether given for collection, collateral purposes, custody and/or for any other object) as well as their consideration, and including all the customer’s rights in connection with all the aforesaid;
- 2.3 “the debt amounts” – any obligation or debt of the customer to the Bank and all the amounts, in Israeli currency or in foreign currency, now or in future due to the Bank from the customer, in any account and/or in any way or on any cause, whether or not their payment date has arrived and whether or not their payment date is conditional upon the fulfillment of any conditions, including amounts called for immediate payment by the Bank pursuant to this agreement or any other agreement or at law, and/or any liability deriving from an undertaking given by the Bank at the customer’s request or pursuant to the terms and conditions of any agreement with him, even if their payment date has not yet arrived and even if a call for payment has not yet been sent in respect thereof, and including in respect of any demand for collateral of the Bank or any other entity executing acts for the customer’s account;

2.4 “the existing debt amounts” – all the debt amounts (including a liability deriving from an undertaking given by the Bank at the customer’s request or pursuant to the terms and conditions of any agreement with him) the payment date of which has arrived and/or in any way or on any cause, including amounts the payment date of which has arrived in consequence of a call for immediate payment and/or acceleration of payment pursuant to the law and/or as agreed with the customer.

3. Lien

3.1 The Bank shall have a lien over the customer’s assets and may at any time, without having to notify the customer thereof in advance, detain them until all the debt amounts have been discharged, maintaining a reasonable ratio between the customer’s assets that have been detained and the debt amounts. It is expressed that the Bank may, in its discretion, choose which of the customer’s assets to detain.

3.2 The Bank may act in accordance with the above provisions in connection with debt amounts the payment date of which has not yet arrived, if it has reasonable concern that these amounts will not be paid to the Bank in full and on time.

3.3 In addition to the aforesaid, in the event that an attachment is imposed over any amount and/or over any of the customer’s assets – the Bank shall have a lien over such amount and/or asset, as the case may be, until the attachment’s removal, provided that the lien pursuant to this paragraph shall only apply to assets of the customer the overall value of which does not exceed the unpaid balance of the debt amounts, as shall be from time to time.

3.4 In the above cases, the customer may not withdraw the amounts and assets due to him from the Bank or any part thereof, or act with or in relation to them in any other way, without the Bank’s consent, and the Bank may prevent the customer from making any disposition with them. In such cases, in the absence of the Bank’s prior written consent as aforesaid, the Bank may treat any withdrawal, act or instruction made or signed or given by the customer as being null and void ab initio and as not binding the Bank in any way.

3.5 The Bank shall notify the customer of the exercise of any of its rights pursuant to this clause after the exercise thereof.

4. Right of set-off

4.1 Without derogating from the Bank’s lien as aforesaid, the Bank may (without obligation), at any time, without having to notify the customer thereof in advance:

4.1.1 set off any amount from the debt amounts existing on the date of the set-off against all or some of the monies due to the customer, even before the payment date of the monies due to the customer against which the set-off is effected;

4.1.2 purchase foreign currency in the amount required to discharge any amount from the existing debt amounts, or sell any foreign currency held by the Bank to the customer’s credit, and use the sale proceeds for the discharge of any amount from the existing debt amounts, or, as the case may be, for the purchase of another foreign currency that is required for the discharge of any amount from the existing debt amounts;

4.1.3 debit any account and any deposit of the customer at the Bank, whether or not mentioned in this agreement, with any amount from the existing debt amounts, and if the aforesaid amounts, or some of them, are in respect of FC credit, debit any account and any deposit as aforesaid of the customer that is managed in the credit currency, or any account of the customer that is managed in Israeli currency or in another foreign currency with its consideration (in Israeli currency or in the other foreign currency), at the Bank’s customary rate on the date of debiting the account as aforesaid;

4.2 Notwithstanding the aforesaid, the Bank shall give the customer notice of set-off from a fixed deposit that were it not for the set-off would have been automatically renewed or extended, such that the customer would have derived certain rights or benefits, unless the delay in the set-off might be detrimental to the Bank or prejudice any of its rights, or in the event that notice is sent and during the period specified therein until the set-off an attachment, notice of the customer’s receivership or other similar event occurs, in which case the set-off shall be effected immediately.

4.3 Any purchase or sale in foreign currency as provided in this clause (in its entirety) shall be done (if done) at the Bank’s customary rate, from amounts in Israeli currency, or from amounts in foreign currency, as the case may be, held by the Bank to the customer’s credit or received on the realization of any collateral given to the Bank by or for the customer.

- 4.4 Any debit in accordance with this clause (in its entirety) shall be made (if made) in an existing deposit or account or in a deposit or account opened for such purpose by the Bank in the customer's name, whether the account or deposit that is debited has a credit balance, debit balance or unauthorized overdraft, or a debit balance or unauthorized overdraft arises therein as a result of being debited as aforesaid, and the unauthorized overdraft (if any) in the account or deposit debited as aforesaid shall bear interest at the maximum rate.
- 4.5 If a debit in FC results in or increases an unauthorized overdraft in a shekel account, the Bank may (without obligation) credit the shekel account against the debiting of another account of the customer in the relevant FC. If a debit in shekels results in or increases an unauthorized overdraft in a FC account, the Bank may (without obligation) credit the FC account against the debiting of another account of the customer in shekels.
- 4.6 The customer acknowledges that where the Bank exercises rights of set-off as aforesaid before the payment date of any amount from the customer's amounts that are placed in deposits of the customer at the Bank, there might be changes to the customer's detriment in relation to his rights in respect of or in connection with such amount (for example, with regard to interest rates, linkage, rate differentials, rights to grants or loans, exemption from or discount on income tax and deductions at source), and the Bank may deduct from the aforesaid amounts commission, expenses and damages that it customarily collects on the breakage by the customer of deposits of any type, including savings plans, shekel deposits and FC deposits.
- 4.7 In addition, subject to the provisions of any law, the Bank may effect set-off against the debts amounts the payment date of which has not yet arrived (even if it has not called for the immediate payment thereof) if there is reasonable concern that the customer will not perform all or some of his obligations, provided that: (1) it has given the customer notice of the set-off; (2) where the set-off will be against any amount from the amounts that are placed in deposits of the customer at the Bank, the payment date of which has not yet arrived, the Bank shall indemnify the customer for the damage in the amounts that would have accrued in his favor had the set-off been effected on the payment date of the debt amounts or on the payment date of the deposit (whichever is lower).

5. General

- 5.1 The customer may not howsoever pledge or charge, transfer, dispose of, sell or assign the account and/or the customer's assets and/or the monies due to the customer, or any part thereof, and/or his rights in respect of the aforesaid, directly or indirectly, for or without consideration, without the prior written consent of the Bank. Any act of the customer contrary to the provisions of this paragraph shall be deemed null and void ab initio.
- 5.2 The customer waives any right of a guarantor pursuant to the Guarantee law, 5727-1967 or pursuant to any other law, in respect of the guarantees as defined above, subject to the provisions of the law that may not be qualified.
- 5.3 All the expenses involved in or relating to this deed and its exercise shall be borne by the customer and shall constitute part of the debt amounts.
- 5.4 The provisions of this deed are irrevocable and may not be cancelled or changed without the prior written consent of the Bank, since the Bank's rights are dependent thereon.
- 5.5 If for any reason the number of the account and/or any of the deposits and/or any account of the customer in which the assets are deposited is changed, all the provisions of this deed shall be deemed to relate to the deposit according to its new number.
